

LIGHTS OUT

SEASON 1

Lights Out is an ambitious character drama centering around Lights Leary (Holt McCallany), an aging former heavyweight boxing champion who struggles to find his identity and support his wife and three daughters after retiring from the ring. Due to years of boxing, Lights suffers from pugilistic dementia, the gradual loss of memory resulting from the blunt force trauma to the head. Financial problems leave him at the perilous crossroads - battling the urge to return to boxing, or reluctantly accepting a job as a brutal and intimidating debt collector. The series is akin to a "King Lear" set in the boxing world.
