

GHOST HUNTERS

Ghost Hunters is the frighteningly successful one-hour weekly series that follows a group of real-life paranormal researchers as they investigate haunted houses throughout the US. From the phenomenally successful co-executive producer of Survivor, Craig Piligian, Ghost Hunters tracks the lives of Jason Hawes and Grant Wilson - plumbers by day and ghost hunters by night. The duo head up TAPS — The Atlantic Paranormal Society — a group of intrepid souls who are far from the usual collection of bespectacled Ph.D.s. They are ordinary, everyday people with day jobs, and an interest in getting to the bottom of your otherworldly disturbances.
